The numbers don't lie. When Bill Gates gets rich, others don't get poor. Polling data not good right now for Republicans. I think a lot of that comes from an anti-Trump sentiment and not from a strong support for spending growth. A lot of people feel more comfortable with what they perceive as Joe Biden's easygoing nature. I believe the polls will move towards a resistance to the mega spending programs being put forward by the Democrats as time goes on.

This constriction of the flow of goods followed by above normal demand caught the logistics chain out of position... In normal times there is zero wait time by shippers for access to a dock for unloading or loading. Currently, there are 34 ships at anchor awaiting dock space.
